WHAT'S ADGO?

It's where the domestic gas industry meets

Each year, the Australian Domestic Gas Outlook (ADGO) gathers leading gas producers, pipeline operators, retailers, end-users, regulators and policymakers for high-level strategy discussions on the future directions of the industry.

Join us to have your say and engage in the debate.

Now in its 13th year, the event has built a loyal following within the industry and is well known for its high calibre of speakers and timely, relevant content.

It's the must attend event for senior leaders with a stake in Australia's domestic gas market.

“Really good and diverse group of speakers. Noticeably, then event had fantastic chairs and moderators that deftly navigated the different topics.”

Alice Evatt, Research Fellow, Net Zero for the Fossil Fuel Sector, University of Oxford (past attendee)

“Enlightening insight into the views of the different players in the Australian Domestic Gas market.”

Jason Ridley, Commercial Operations Manager, Gas Marketing Australia, Chevron Australia (past attendee)

Why you need to attend ADGO in 2026

Be part of the leading domestic gas forum uniting producers, regulators, infrastructure owners and major industrial users from across Australia

Gain exclusive insights into high-level strategies from the leadership of key players in the domestic gas industry, including Woodside, Shell, Chevron, Amplitude, Beach, Strike, and Senex

Understand the critical role of gas infrastructure and its impact on supply access and pricing, with insights from Squadron, APA and Jemena

Examine the impact of recent gas policy, including proposed east coast gas reservation and perspectives from AEMC and ACCC

Engage with senior leaders across the domestic gas supply chain in the unparalleled networking this event is known for

Assess decarbonisation pathways for the gas sector at the optional carbon capture day

Pre-conference Masterclass

Monday, 30 March

Masterclass: Detailed gas market analysis: Price trends, electrification, supply demand balance, decarbonisation and LNG imports

This masterclass is designed for professionals across the gas industry who need to understand how price movements, supply-demand dynamics, and decarbonisation policies will shape Australia's energy future. Attendees will gain a comprehensive, data-driven understanding of Australia's gas market outlook and practical insights to inform strategy, investment, and risk management decisions.

Key learning outcomes:

- Analysing gas price trends and demand shifts across industrial, residential, and power generation sectors
- Evaluating new supply options, LNG regasification projects, and constraints impacting east coast market stability
- Understanding the implications of federal and state policy reforms, including price caps and decarbonisation targets
- Assessing the evolving role of gas, hydrogen, and renewable gases in Australia's energy transition
- Interpreting international LNG pricing and carbon offset market trends influencing domestic gas economics
